Letters to the Editor

Mr. Editor of the Tribune:

I would like to draw your attention to our present condition of our county. It has a large body of laughter-loving people surrounded by trusts and buried under taxes. Nowhere is food so plentiful, prohibition so effective as in our county, but this is not the story I want to tell you. I think of the poor chap that has no work, food nor fuel, and again of the political appointments that draws a fat salary. Could not these political chaps be layed off, and their salaries be diverted in work so that the poor chap can earn a living as the majority of them don't like to steal and are too proud to ask alms, but are willing to work.

Our county and city officials should take this unemployment up, discharge the political classes and give employment to the masses. Now don't say this can't be done. Where there is a will there is a way, and it would not increase the taxes. Nowhere are the cows so contented, the hens and chickens so cackly and industrious than here. Why not the other towns lead us? Why not follow them? Get busy. A TAXPAYER.

CONSIDER THE REPEAL

Some people think the Eighteenth Amendment will be repealed. It was passed by 45 out of the 48 state legislatures and has been passed upon by the supreme court of the United States from every legal standpoint which could be raised by the best legal minds. At the time of its adoption, thirty of the states already had adopted state prohibition. If only 13 of the state stand by the amendment it cannot be repealed in a thousand years. There is as much chance of repealing the Eighteenth Amendment as there is for the proverbial snowball.

Most of the state daily papers had illustrated articles last Sunday about the North Platte Night school. They attracted a great deal of attention and gave North Platte a very creditable place in that line.

The attendance at the night school is reported to be keeping up to the expectations of those who are conducting it. The cold weather and social entertainment events do not seem to cause much absence.

Each teacher in the night school prepares an outline of the work which is to be taken up each recitation and this outline is mimeographed and a copy is handed to each student in the class. Some of the outlines are given out a week ahead so that the students may know what is expected of them.

It has been decided to award certificates to all who complete a course in the night school. The courses run for eight weeks and at the close the certificates will be given out. They are signed by the federal director of vocational education and local authorities.
